Products

Free Range Eggs. ,

Eggs, come from hens NOT housed in cages, lay their eggs in nest boxes and have free access to both feed and unlimited water.

Hens eat feed, NON- Certified Feed, without antibiotics, medications or preservatives. Free range denotes a method of farming husbandry where hens, can roam freely outdoors, rather than being confined in an enclosure for 24hours each day. Free Range hens will be outdoors most days, as our climate allows.

"New range standards mean consumers can be confident that when they buy free-range eggs, they know the hens must have access to a good quality, outdoor range. BC is the first province in Canada to set standards for free-range birds."
